Our staff work alongside survivors of family violence to develop plans to support problem solving, coping skills and self-efficacy. Refuge Victoria’s exit planning is essential to our service as our clients are with us for an average of six weeks.

The Refuge Victoria philosophy of care begins with the principle of “voice and choice” where self-determination and the perspective and views of the family, including that of the child or young person. The wraparound approach places the individual and family at the centre and builds a support team around them to drive change, in conjunction with our partner agencies. A strength-based approach is taken to identify and build capabilities, capacity and resources to empower victim survivors of family violence. Services are individualised, flexible, community based and culturally competent.

The Role

Working as part of a dynamic team the family violence support worker assists the work of Refuge Victoria Case Managers and Children and Young People’s Practitioners to implement goals and meet needs identified in client plans.
